Mid-career, solo researcher

7:00 - Checking emails at home
8:00 - Emailing students (Graduate Tutor)
9:00 - Supervision with final year undergraduate
10:00 - Meeting with PhD student
11:00 - Facultea break with students
12:00 - Lunch at college
13:00 - Updating a conference paper, sharing it on Academia
14:00 - At college office reading applications for a scholarship
15:00 - Back at the Faculty for a grammar class
16:00 - Supervision with final year undergraduate
17:00 - Meeting with PhD student
18:00 - Call from a friend to ask him to appear on Radio 4
19:00 - Tutorial admin at college
20:00 - Making a reading list for a new MPhil course

“I love the intellectual stimulation of having PhD students. It would be nice to be able to delete most of my emails by the end of the day. It's so hard to decide who should get the money. The morning goes so quickly, how is it after 11 already!? The trick is passing students on to someone who can help.”

“"If I got offered a professorship somewhere else I don’t think I’d take it. Everyone is here because they want to do research and Cambridge has fantastic resources.”

Time

Research  Teaching  Admin  Misc.

Satisfaction