NOTES TO CONTRIBUTORS:

As a forum for the interchange of ideas arising from the study of archaeology, ARC welcomes relevant contributions from workers in any field. Articles should not normally exceed 3000 to 4000 words in length. The forthcoming theme for 5:2 is 'Archaeology and the Interpretation of Space'. Non-thematic contributions of general interest are also welcome. Shorter presentations on topical subjects are invited for Comments and General Perspectives, as well as comments on the contents of previous issues. Unsolicited manuscripts will not normally be returned unless accompanied by a stamped self-addressed envelope, or International Postal Coupons. The editors will attempt to ensure, but cannot always guarantee, that copy-edited versions of accepted manuscripts will be returned to authors before publication. Manuscripts should be clearly typed, double spaced, and follow the format of this issue. Illustrations should be A4 (210 x 297 mm) for reduction to A5 (148 x 210 mm). ARC has a policy of the non-sexist use of language, and contributors are requested to conform to this policy. The editors are most willing to assist with any enquiries which may arise on this point. A style sheet is available on request.

ARC retains the copyright on all material it prints, but reproduction and publication rights are granted to authors on request.

The opinions expressed in contributions do not necessarily reflect the opinions of the editors, singly or collectively.
